Thomas Linacre

Award

Dr. McNulty

The 1966 Thomas Linacre Award was presented to Dr. James V. McNulty of Los Angeles, California. His article, "The Therapeutic Abortion Law: A Fight for a Life," published in the November 1966 issue of THE LINACRE QUARTERLY was judged by a special editorial committee of the Federation to constitute the most significant contribution by a physician to last year's issues of the journal.

Dr. McNulty is a member of the Los Angeles Catholic Physicians' Guild and his work is in the field of obstetrics and gynecology. He received his bachelor of science degree from Manhattan College and degree in medicine from New York Medical College where he is a trustee. Serving as clinical professor of obstetrics and gynecology, University of Southern California, School of Medicine, he is also a consulting gynecologist at Children's Hospital in Los Angeles. He is a member of several medical associations and a diplomate of the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology. Dr. McNulty is also a member of the California State Board of Medical Examiners. His hospital affiliations include: St. Vincent's, The Hospital of the Good Samaritan, and Los Angeles County General Hospital, all in Los Angeles; Valley Presbyterian, in Van Nuys, and St. Joseph's in Burbank.

Married to Ann Blyth, Dr. and Mrs. McNulty, are the parents of Timothy, Maureen, Kathleen, Terence, and Eileen. They reside in North Hollywood.

The Linacre Award was presented by Dr. William J. Egan, editor of THE LINACRE QUARTERLY, to Dr. McNulty at the breakfast meeting of the National Federation held in Atlantic City on Wednesday, June 21.
