Arab World Fest

Enaya Othman

Marquette University, enaya.othman@marquette.edu

Follow this and additional works at: https://epublications.marquette.edu/arabic

Recommended Citation

https://epublications.marquette.edu/arabic/8
Arab World Fest

Arabs are an ethnic linguistic group who trace their cultural heritage to one or more of the twenty-two modern Arab nation states. They began to settle in Milwaukee in late nineteenth century and since then have contributed significantly to the cultural, social, economic, and political life of the city and its surrounding regions. The Arab-Syrian community participated in the “Harvest Festival of Many Lands” at the Milwaukee Midsummer Festival on the lakefront in the 1930s. Members from the Arab Christian and Muslim communities established the Arab World Fest in 1998 to represent Arab-Americans’ heritage and contributions to Milwaukee’s cultural and economic life. It took place at Henry Maier Festival Park in the late summer. The fest was not organized for three years from 2011-2013 because it coincided with Ramadan. However, it was resumed in 2014, only to be cancelled permanently in 2015. The Arab Fest was sponsored by the Arabian Festivals, Inc., a non-profit organization.

The Arab Fest was usually arranged in three separate sections. The cultural tent included a fashion show and displays of cultural clothing and exhibits of artifacts from different Arab regions. The vendors’ tent replicated the traditional Arab al-souk (market) selling culturally significant items such as scarfs, jewelry, arts, and books. Food vendors provided the attendees with a taste of authentic Arab cuisine and qahwa (coffee). The educational tent helped attendees learn about the history of Arab Americans and, on Saturday evening, presented popular Arab singers, debka (folkdance) groups, and belly dancers.
Footnotes [1]

4. ^ Arab World Fest, last accessed May 1, 2017.

For Further Reading
