A Message from the Archdiocese of Omaha

The Creighton University School of Medicine has been highly honored with the invitation to compose the Editorial Staff of this issue of the Linacre Quarterly. For so many years it has been the respected journal for the Catholic Physicians' Guilds of the United States and to a great extent has been the Bible of the Catholic doctor.

The medical profession and the Catholic Priesthood have strong ties of affiliation and both are more than professions in the usual sense but should be classified as vocations for a very high and holy purpose. Our Blessed Lord, the Master Physician, has ever been your model and following His example and observing His law will bring His blessing upon your devoted services and deeply appreciated acts of skill and dedication.

In these days of confused thinking and extra ordinary pressures may the Catholic doctor ever swear allegiance to the Catholic ethic of his calling and practice it whatever the cost might be.

Please accept my blessing on your noble work.

Gerald T. Bergan
Archbishop of Omaha
