WILMINGTON, DELAWARE

The Wilmington Guild has been commemorating the Feast of St. Luke since 1951. The "White Mass" has been continued each year. Pre-Cana Conferences for engaged couples are given; twelve have taken place since 1954. The members cooperate with the Catholic Nurses' Guild in giving physical examinations to first grade children of the parochial schools. Medico-moral-religious sessions have been held as part of regular meetings. A Cana Conference for doctors and their wives has been held. Marriage preparation courses for high school senior students have been given. Members of the Guild were active in support of revised adoption laws for the State of Delaware. Medical equipment and samples have been collected for missions in Ceylon and Africa.

ROCK ISLAND, ILLINOIS

The "White Mass" observance began the year's activities for the Rock Island Guild. A retreat for physicians in the diocese of Doria was held. A dinner meeting was scheduled for April. Guild officers are active in promoting interest in formation of other groups throughout the diocese. Mr. John Ryan, F.R.C.S., of London, England, visitor at the Federation Board meeting, spoke at the Guild's one meeting.

OTHER BUSINESS

A telegram of good wishes for recovery from illness was sent to Mr. M. R. Kneiff, executive secretary of the Federation.

Father Ignatius W. Cox, S.J., first moderator of the Federation, was present at the meeting, speaking briefly on the development of the organization and complimenting the large representation of Guilds at the board session.

Mr. John Ryan, F.R.C.S., surgeon from London, England, spoke of conditions in the field of medicine there, discussing the nationalized system of medical care. There are about 900 members in the Catholic Physicians' Guild but only approximately 200 are active.

Meeting adjourned at 11:30 p.m.
