HOW THE SEMINAR WORKS & HOW TO WRITE FOR US

The Seminar plans each of the two annual issues during its three annual meetings, each at a different Jesuit college or university. For the most part, an issue focuses on one theme; but, at the same time, through the various departments — letters, talking back, occasional forums, other articles, and book reviews — there are opportunities to keep the conversation going on a variety of concerns.

Our ten Seminar members come from across the spectrum of our colleges and universities, representing varied academic disciplines and a broad range of experience with the Jesuit educational tradition. The themes we choose to explore come out of our common reflection on that experience and from the discussions we hold with faculty, administrators, staff, and students as we rotate among our schools.

So, although most of the major articles are commissioned by the Seminar, we welcome unsolicited articles from the readers. Ideally, they should be written to explore an idea which will generate discussion rather than describe a new worthy project at one’s institution. Please understand that, since the Seminar meets only three times a year, it may take several months for each issue to take shape.

RAS, SJ

COMING UP

The next issue, January 2007, will examine the “disconnect” between the two cultures: that proposed by the ideals of Jesuit education and that which the students live.

Topics under discussion:

Philosophy and Theology were once the center of the traditional Jesuit education. Have they faded? Has religious studies replaced theology? Does anyone teach Thomism?

“Physicality” — the education of the whole person. Can we integrate mind, spirit, and body in the same curriculum?

HOW TO WRITE FOR US

Please keep the article to fewer than 3,000 words. Do NOT include footnotes. Incorporate any references into the text.

Please, DON’T capitalize: chairman of the biology department, names of committees, or administrative titles, unless the title precedes the name, as in President Woodrow Wilson. We welcome photographs, fully captioned, preferably action rather than posed shots. Preferable format: a CD containing digital images scanned at not less than 300 dpi. Or a traditional print. Send the article both as a Microsoft WORD/mac attachment to sarahandrew@holistad.com and in hard copy to the editor at Saint Peter’s College.
