NEW TO THE CONVERSATION?

The National Seminar on Jesuit Higher Education solicits suggested themes for future issues. It also invites essays on themes announced or under discussion (see below). The journal will also publish responses to individual essays or whole issues, when applicable.

In Development:

• Marketing the Jesuit Brand (January, 2004)

Topics Under Discussion

• Distance Learning
• Residential Learning Communities
• Health Care and Healing
• Governance

• Spirituality
• Current Church Crisis
• Academic Freedom
• Campus Culture Re-Visited (including Gender issues)
"By preference, by option, our Jesuit point of view is that of the poor... A legitimate question, even if it doesn’t sound academic, is for each professor to ask, ‘When researching and teaching, where and with whom is my heart?’ To expect our professors to make such an explicit option and speak about it is obviously not easy; it entails risks. But I do believe that this is what Jesuit educators have publicly stated, in Church and in society, to be our defining commitment."

Peter-Hans Kolvenbach, S.J.,
